WILDCAT WENT UNCAUGHT FOR A LONG TIME

Clyde Brewer Found Feline That Kept Him Guessing

NICELY OUTSMARTED

Varmint Drew Bait From Snare To A Safe Spot

When Clyde Brewer kills a wildcat, he kills 'em big.

And, furthermore, he proves it.

Had A Monster.

The other night Mr. Brewer brought to The Republican Press office a wildcat he had killed the day before. It weighed 45 pounds and it stood 31 inches high. The varmint was wonderfully developed. Its paws were almost as large as those of a panther. It had a great mouth and large, viciously sharp tusks. Broad of chest and heavy of neck, with its front legs extraordinarily big and steellike in hardness, this cat, undoubtedly had taken a heavy toll in wild life before Mr. Brewer trapped it.

Heard Him Killing.

One day about a month ago Mr. Brewer was at his Eight-Mile Ranch when he saw a deer crashing through a thicket. It was pursued by some animal. The pair did not come out of the brush as quickly as they should, if the race had not ended and Mr. Brewer heard a cry from the deer. At once he knew what had taken place. He was armed with a shotgun and hurried to the spot. There he found a two-year old doe. The side of her neck had been deeply gashed and she was dead. Tracks indicated the killer was a wildcat, but the varmint had gotten away. Ten days after that Mr. Brewer came upon a just-killed spike buck. Wildcat tracks again proved what the killer was.

Was Too Sly.

Mr. Brewer went to his ranch and got six traps. Then he returned to the dead buck. He set the traps, three on each side of the deer. Next day he went back. As Mr. Brewer had expected, the wildcat had returned, but he had out-smarted Mr.Brewer. Scenting traps were about the carcass, the wildcat had taken the deer by the legs and dragged it to a

FAR EAST IS FORUM TOPIC

Prof. Mah To Speak On Problems Of His Native China

"The World Crisis in the Far East" will be presented by N. Wing Mah, associate professor of political science at the University of California, when the Forum opens for the season tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock in the high school cafeteria.

150 WPA CAMP FOR MENDOCINO WILL BE LOCATED NEAR FARLEY TO COMPLETE BIGGAR HIGHWAY

Supervisor Duane Bittenbender Putting Concluding Details Together To Bring About Final Order

SEELEY ESTATE LAND IS TO BE THE CAMP SITE

Federal, State And County Join Forces To Finance Project—Sen. G. M. Biggar's 20-Year Dream Realized

Special Correspondence of The Press

WILLITS, Jan. 25. — It now looks very much as if Mendocino county will shortly have the largest WPA camp in this part of the state for Federal, state and county officers have all agreed on the plan and Supervisor Duane Bittenbender is now in San Francisco where he will sign a three-year lease with a representative of the Seeley estate and all the details of this are also agreed on.

Location Of Camp.

The proposed camp will be located at Farley on the site formerly used by Hemstreet & Bell when they built the Biggar highway three years ago. Under the proposed setup the Federal government will supply the WPA workers, the State Relief Administration will take care of the board and lodging and Mendocino county will be responsible for the supervision of the work and equipment and pay the nominal rental which will be charged for the campsite.

To Rebuild Highway.

The work will consist of the rehabilitation of the Biggar highway which connects Round Valley with the Redwood Highway. This highway, like all new roads, was badly damaged by the big storm last month and is now not open for travel. It will probably be another month before the work can make much headway for the Longvale bridge has to be rebuilt first and the camp structures erected.

Three Years Assured.

By late spring the WPA promise to have about 150 men at work and the arrangement is to keep them employed a term of three years. In this length of time such a force ought to be able to widen and put the highway in the shape required by state highway standards, but three steel bridges will also have to be built and the WPA will also pay most of this expense.

First Figures Cut.

It will be remembered that three years ago when bids were first called for Hemstreet & Bell were the low bidders but their first bid was more than WPA had allotted for the work. A revised plan was then made which left out several miles of old county road which was passable most of the year but below high water level and rather rough and crooked.

To Go Higher.

This section of the highway will consist of new construction and will be built on the original survey which is above high water mark. Fortunately this particular stretch of new road is all located but a few miles from Farley camp and will not be expensive or difficult construction.

Has Never Quit.

It has been the life dream of Senator Geo. M. Biggar to have this highway built and the writer knows from personal knowledge that for the past 20 years Senator Biggar has devoted a large portion of his time and considerable money in promoting the project. But for the interest he has taken the highway would never have been started and this is one reason why it should be called "Biggar Highway," for the road in a few years will join the Redwood Highway just this side of the railroad underpass and it ends a few miles east of Dos Rios, so it will not be a Longvale-Dos Rios road.

Two San Quentin Officials Here

Warden Court Smith and Dr. Leo L. Stanley, of San Quentin prison, accompanied by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Stanley, were here yesterday at which time Dr. Stanley was guest speaker before the Rotarians. After the Rotary dinner the party went to Talmage where an inspection of the new criminal ward of the State Hospital was made.

R. V. LAWSON URGED TO RUN

Coast School Teacher Mentioned For The State Senate

(Fort Bragg Advocate)

Most of the state and county officials come up for election this year. In the county, the voters must choose a superior judge, district attorney, tax collector, recorder, auditor, treasurer and school superintendent. Many state officials, including part of the state senate and all of the assembly, along with the governor, are to be elected.

After The Legislature.

The Democratic registration now exceeds that of the Republicans 600,000 in the state, and Democrats are looking forward to taking over many important offices and securing a majority in both houses of the Legislature. The Assembly has such a majority.

Want A Senator.

In view of the possibility of a Democrat becoming governor for the next four years, many voters of this Senatorial district feel a Democratic Senator could best serve the interests of this section in the upper house. Local Democrats have been casting about for a candidate. The coast section has not had a Democratic representative in the Legislature for many years and many feel an effort should be made to place one there at the coming election.

Mention A Teacher.

R. V. Lawson, principal of the Fort Bragg Junior high school, has been urged to enter the race. Mr. Lawson is known throughout the county and is a member of a pioneer Democratic family. Should he decide to enter the race, he would prove a formidable candidate from the coast. He is well qualified to represent the district.

Two Stations To Handle The Work

The State personnel board announced opening for laborers on state highways. One group of applications must be filed at the Boonville maintenance station on January 29 and a second at the Ukiah maintenance station February 5.

UNUSUAL ENTERTAINMENT HITS ON PRESIDENT'S BALL PROGRAM

Elaborate Numbers Will Greet Those Who Attend

Sparkling entertainment for the President's Ball, to be held Friday evening in the auditorium of Ukiah grammar school, will effervesce with talent drawn from Hopland, Talmage, Potter Valley, Santa Rosa and Ukiah, including Marcucci and his orchestra, Dr. C. E. Roberts and his Little Dutch Band, Kelly and his Vagabonds, all of whom have volunteered their services for the worthy cause. Heads of the orchestras, which comprise more than two score musicians, met Monday evening with the Ukiah Infantile Paralysis Committee, of which Mrs. Karl Davis is chairman, to complete program arrangements.

Much To Entertain.

Special features will be Nicholas Moen, of Talmage, with his novelty numbers on the musical saw, and songs by Lulu Ford Thornton, both of whom will be presented by Mr. Kellogg; songs by Miss Dorothy Harp and by little Nancy Harp, who will sing "Home On The Range," a favorite of President Roosevelt; Kathleen Davis in special dance numbers; Ernestine Gibson, talented soprano; W. K. Davis, Dr. J. J. Kirwin and Raymond J. Pearl as a vocal trio accompanied by Paul Mathews; Russell Parks, 11-year-old boy singer of Potter Valley, who is said to have a remarkable voice; Harley Branson, who will sing with the orchestra during the evening; Joe Sherman, the "singing cowboy," and "Buffalo Bill" Vassar in western songs as well as Swiss yodeling, both of Santa Rosa; and the Little Dutch Band in comedy costume presenting novelty Dutch numbers.

Decorations Are Elaborate.

Decorations are in the hands of the 20-30 club which is rising to the occasion in its usual efficient manner to transform the auditorium into masses of foliage and color.

Added to letters written by local doctors urging support of the fund to fight infantile paralysis is the following, received this week by the committee having the President's Ball Friday night in hand. Drs. Abbott say:

Paralyzed for life! Never again to walk or play or work! The President's Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is to make possible wider research into the causes, and develop more prompt and better methods of treatment.

"It has happened to many. It may happen in your family. It comes to rich and poor alike. Many have not the means to make available the medical care needed. The funds are now to go entirely to the National Foundation and be distributed for research, for education in prevention and care, to hospitals for expert orthopedic services to the afflicted, and through hospitals and clinics for the benefit of all who have the disease.

"A number of persons in Ukiah have been attacked by this dread and baffling malady in the last few years. The latest, little Mae Akers, is now benefiting by funds from this project and is being cared for by Dr. Haas and the Shriners Hospital orthopedic service in San Francisco. Through the local committee many have contributed to this case.

"On January 28 all may share in this great humanitarian endeavor inaugurated by President Roosevelt."

(Signed) Dr. G. K. Abbott and Dr. Cora Abbott.

CLEANERY MAN WAS 'CLEANED' BY A SLICKER

Stranger Works Neat Racket Here Thursday Morning

PAID $1.75 FOR SUIT

Suave Individual Had Self-Possession Unlimited

You have to watch your step these days, if you want to retain your own. The city slickers are coming this way.

How He Did It.

Last week a stranger wandered into a local pressery and, pointing to a suit of clothes that had been cleaned and was hanging on the delivery rack, said: "I would like to get my suit." "What is your name?" the proprietor asked. A name was given and the owner of the cleaning establishment, checking it with the tag on the suit, said, "That is not the name on the suit." The stranger, without any manifestation of concern, said, "That is all right, I sent them in by a friend of mine." Taken off his guard by the self-possession of the man, the pressery proprietor wrapped up the suit and collected the amount due for the service, $1.75.

Discovered Too Late.

Later on, when the assistant of the man conducting the establishment returned from a delivery chore, the incident was brought up and it was discovered the suit belonged to a clerk in a local bank and, consulting him, it was ascertained he had sent no one for his suit. In the meantime the stranger, who, it is believed, travels in an automobile, had vanished.

Out New Suit.

Of course he had sent no suit to be cleaned, simply working a racket and getting a good suit of clothes for $1.75. There was nothing for the cleanery man to do but give the owner of the snitched suit an order for a new suit and take a loss of $37.50.

HELPS HIMSELF TO WIFE'S COIN

Gets Drunk And Robs Spouse, Beats Baby, Is Complaint

Roy E. Vallier, of Boonville, is under restraint of a court order issued last week barring him from the restaurant owned and operated by his wife, Nina G. Vallier, at Boonville. He is ordered to appear in court January 28 at 10 o'clock and show cause why an injunction should not be issued.

Husband Helps Himself.

The restraining order was issued after Mrs. Vallier had filed complaint for divorce in which she accused her husband of interfering with her business, annoying her customers and taking cash from the till and goods and merchandise from the place and disposing of them. Being without property of his own, Mrs. Vallier declares her husband is unable to respond to judgment for the goods taken and has caused her great damage.

Man Got Violent.

The Valliers were married in Ukiah June 4, 1918, and separated January 9. In Boonville last December it is charged Mr. Vallier threatened the life of his wife and their youngest daughter and severely injured the child when he struck her with his fists. Other instances of similar nature are alluded to in the complaint, taking place when the husband was under the influence of liquor. Mrs. Vallier asks her a decree of divorce, custody of her three children, ages 4, 16 and 18 years, with her husband required to pay such sums as are reasonable for support of the children.

Dan Cohen was a business visitor in San Francisco Thursday.

2 Women Wandering In The Hills, Lost

Mrs. June Brush and Mrs. Minerva Wheeler, whose husbands are employed at the Ford Garage, decided Sunday they would walk to the "U" in the hills west of the city. They started on their trip about two o'clock in the afternoon and late in the evening, after wandering about some time, discovered they were lost. The two ladies decided it best to sit down and not continue their wanderings and were found by their husbands about nine o'clock that night. The ladies did not have any matches with them to build a fire and by the time they were found by their husbands had experienced a thorough chilling.

NEW MOVEMENT OF MOGULS IS EMBARRASSING

Southern Pacific Now Demands Sausalito Boats Be Bought

HAS AN ACE IN HOLE!

Bridge Act Found To Have Handicapping Section In It

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company has served notice, through its president, it will not consent to have the Sausalito fleet of ferries cease operation, unless it is given additional money by the Golden Gate Bridge District — Something in the neighborhood of a million dollars is asked.

A New Move.

This stand has been taken, despite the fact Governor Frank F. Merriam has said he will not agree to a deal being made with the Southern Pacific for elimination of the East Bay ferries, unless the Sausalito ferries are abandoned.

Another Obstacle Looms.

Then, to make the situation more difficult, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation may force the California Toll Bridge Authority to find new methods of financing construction of the interurban system on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge, Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly has revealed.

Want Ferry Elimination.

State representatives are in Washington conferring with the Federal agency, Mr. Kelly admitted, following word the $10,000,000 loan needed to complete the work is being delayed. The RFC is said to favor elimination of the bay ferry system to increase the value of the bridge bonds it holds, contending a state transportation monopoly across the bay would enhance their value.

What May Follow.

Should the RFC refuse to issue the remaining funds, Mr. Kelly said, the state might issue its own bonds, use money now held in reserve for payment of previous loans from the corporation, or sell other state bonds and use the proceeds to purchase a new issue covering remaining construction costs.

Case Drags On.

In the meantime the State Railroad Commission is continuing its ever more prolonged consideration of the case of the Golden Gate bridge against the Ferries Company to try and com-

LITTLE VICTIM SENDS THANKS

Marietta Burnham Wrote Letters To Campfire Girls

Campfire Girls received from 12-year-old Marietta Burnham, bedridden since her accidental shooting at her home on Pine Ridge last summer, a letter which speaks for itself:

"Dear Campfire Girls: I thank you ever so much for the lovely dolly you gave me for Christmas. I just love dressing her in all her pretty dresses (made by the donors) and playing with her. I am feeling quite well and hope you are all the same. We had rain down here last night but it turned out to be a very nice day. I got a lot of Christmas presents. Among them were a wrist watch, a lorgnette, a dairy, a lot of beads to make my own jewelry with, two pair of bobby socks, a scrap book, an automatic picture gun, two boxes of handkerchiefs, three boxes of candy, some hair ribbons and three boxes of stationery, and that is all I can think of at this moment. I am your loving friend, Marietta Burnham."

The little patient has been a guest since the holidays at the Oakland home of Dr. Morris, who was present at the time of the accident.

IS GETTING WELL

"So the People May Know"

THE PAROLE BOARD "DEAL"

A few weeks back the editor of this newspaper was front page and editorial copy for many newspapers throughout the state and, did his face burn! He was accused of having made a "deal" with Governor F. F. Merriam, after he had stated he would support Yard Captain Wm. J. Ryan for Warden at Folsom, switched and voted for Captain Clyde I. Plummer, of Los Angeles, for the Folsom wardenship—Captain Plummer, so the newspapers ran the story, had the backing of Governor Merriam. For "betraying" Captain Ryan, the articles went on to say, Mr. O'Brien had demanded he be appointed to the State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles at a salary of $5000 a year.

The days when I was being panned, fore and aft, were not pleasant ones to go through. I had never ducked, dodged or sidestepped an issue while in public life and the charge I had run out in a deal made some of those days, when an exceptionally large number of criticisms in the newspapers came in on me, tough to go through.

I had made no application for the Parole Board job. I did not speak to Governor Merriam about the appointment. I asked no one to do so for me. I never, at any time, made a promise or pledge to Governor Merriam I would vote for Captain Plummer.

I was the first Director to suggest Captain W. J. Ryan for the wardenship and I stayed with him, as he vacillated, until he formally, in writing, notified Chairman T. N. Harvey, of the Prison Board, he would not take the post. He then released me. However, I did not, even then, desert Captain Ryan. It was I who made the motion to have his salary raised $50 a month, to provide he should be allowed a six-hour day, that he should have an assistant of his own choice and that he should be named Warden at Folsom when the Chino prison was completed, when he had recovered his health.

All of this stands in the prison archives.

My conviction is all of the trouble on the Board was caused by Director Frank C. Sykes who, incensed at Governor Merriam because he had removed him from the Parole Board and deprived him of a $5000 salary, two years ago, seized upon the wardenship situation to attack the Governor. In the meantime I had stepped into the middle of the fight and everyone knows what happened to me, but now the furore has subsided, I want to go on record as saying I hold no hard feelings against fellow publishers for what they did to me. I took a beating for something I did not have coming to me, but the writers who were administering it did not know, at the time, what they were doing and, as far as I am concerned, all is forgiven and forgotten.

But at last the pendulum has begun to swing back and during the past few days these quoted articles, and others, have begun to appear in the press and after awhile the wrong that was done me will be understood and that will be all right with me.

In The San Francisco News, Arthur Caylor, commenting on the treatment given me, says:

"A neat demonstration of how a man can keep his mouth shut when he is being pushed around is being put on by A. R. O'Brien, member of the State Board of Prison Directors. Mr. O'Brien voted for Clyde I. Plummer, Governor Merriam's candidate for warden of Folsom. For this, gossip had it, Mr. O'Brien was to be given a $5000 job on the Parole Board. He didn't get it. Apparently Mr. Merriam slipped him the black spot. This concept, our men report, is unfair both to Mr. O'Brien and to the governor. The reason is that they are both keeping a secret—and so are the other members of the Prison Board.

"What happened was that Mr. O'Brien went into the meeting where Mr. Plummer was selected, prepared to vote as he had told the world he would do—for Yard Captain Ryan, who was wounded in the same abortive prison break which brought death to Warden Clarence Larkin.

"This is the secret: All plans went to pot when Captain Ryan broke down before the board and insisted almost hysterically that he couldn't face the responsiblty of running a tough prison like Folsom.

"Mr. O'Brien then voted with the rest of the board to put in Mr. Plummer on a temporary basis, with the proviso that he should be switched to Chino at the completion of that Southern California prison—and in the hope that Mr. Ryan would then be ready to take over at Folsom.

"A part of this story got out, but it was considered hooey because none of the board members was willing to tell the details about Mr. Ryan's breakdown. Yet the fact seems to be that Mr. O'Brien's vote was forced by circumstances and not by any advance dicker with Mr. Merriam."

Earl C. Behrens, political editor of The San Francisco Chronicle, in explaining how The Chronicle got off wrong, says: "We printed the appointment story upon what we believed to be reliable information and the fact that you had been a candidate for the place some time ago seemed to establish the assumption that you would like to be a member of the board when a vacancy occurred. * * * We should be glad to have your version of the facts * * * "

The Oroville Mercury sees the fading of the "deal" story thusly: "The Governor seems to have been cleared pretty thoroughly of political action in the appointment of Clyde I. Plummer over Captain Ryan to the post of Folsom wardenship. He did not appoint A. R. O'Brien, Ukiah publisher, to the State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles. Those opposing the Governor declared appointment of Mr. O'Brien was the price to be paid by the Governor for his (O'Brien's) change from Ryan to Plummer. A salary of $5000 a year is involved. Further than that, Mr. O'Brien insists the Governor did not try to influence him in his position as deciding member of the board. Mr. O'Brien says: 'I talked with the Governor about appointment of a warden before the appointment was made and he told me to use my own discretion.' The combination of circumstances is rather conclusive. If Mr. O'Brien could have passed the buck back to the Governor the time to have done so was when he lost his $5000 job."

THEY CAME BACK

THERE IS A LOT OF TRUTH in an article appearing in an exchange which, in its comment on prisoners being trusted by the authorities of Alabama, contends they prove by their keeping their part of the agreement that trying to be humane with men who have gone wrong is, after all, worth while. In the article it is stated that, for the tenth year Alabama tried out its "Christmas parole" plan for "most worthy" prison convicts.

Bound only by "word of honor, man-to-man" compacts with Governor Bibb Graves and their wardens, the men and women were sent home for a Christmas "vacation" of two weeks, at the end of which time they came straggling back to serve the rest of their sentences.

Last year only seven out of several hundred failed to return. This proves that even men and women convicted of crime can be relied upon if given something to work toward, some incentive to better conduct. The novel plan, already justified by 10 years of experience, is a bright spot on a penal system that still has altogether too many dark sides.

A stray dog on the street, if you pat it will show appreciation by licking your hand. Kick it and it will show its teeth. Kindness will do a lot with convicts. All of them will not respond, it is quite true, but many will. Fiends and beast-men in prisons merit little consideration other than humane treatment, but in penitentiaries are many men who have simply gotten off wrong and who may be salvaged. It is this class prison authorities, in some instances, are trying to bring back and, unfortunately, they are receiving but little support, but, some day, society will see segregation and mercy-tempered handling of convicts, now frowned upon by those who do not understand the weaknesses of the criminal class, is what is required to rehabilitate prison inmates and big strides on the way back will be made.

DEATH IN THE DESERT

SPEAKING OF THE PRACTICE of coming to warm, dry climates with the hope of recovering from tuberculosis The Willows Journal says:

"A recent issue of Life contained a pictorial review of the fight against tuberculosis. Probably the most startling revelation, to many people, is the fact that climate has little or no bearing on modern treatment of tuberculioss. Virtually every state and county in the Union are equipped to competently care for tuberculosis patients. Yet, tragically, thousands of people continue to flock to the locality which public dogma has erroneously taught them to believe is of greatest benefit. Each year hundreds upon hundreds of people forsake home and family, or worse, bring their families with them, and spend their last cent reaching the deserts of the southwest. Upon arrival they are ineligible for local aid and can do nothing but wait in proverty—for death. At home they could in most cases have secured prompt and effectve aid from the county or state, either of which is prepared for just such cases. Don't let such a horrible mistake wreck your family."

Part of what The Journal says is correct. No one, especially if ailing, can expect to go to the desert country and make their way back to recovery by trying to get well and, at the same time, earn enough to live on. Yet there is no question but that, if one goes to the desert, has enough to purchase proper food and clothing and lives out in the open, the high, dry altitude and rarified air will greatly prolong life for tubercular people. The trouble with the distressed and diseased men and women who are covered by the theory expressed in The Journal, is that sickness and poverty combined bring about their unfortunate plights.

THEY STILL EXIST

A SACRAMENTO VALLEY EXCHANGE, always interesting because of the fine editorials its editor writes—we speak of The Chico Enterprise—calls attention to the fact the days of courage and heroism are far from gone. There is no better evidence of that fact than the recent rescue of 15 men who had spent 39 almost foodless days in the wilds of Canada.

Once in a while we are apt to get the idea that our vaunted civilization has softened the race; that there's no longer any adventure and no one to accept it if it came. It is pleasant when something like the Ontario episode proves us wrong.

Certainly the saga of the Arctic holds no better example of courage than that of those 15 men, fighting death for weeks, maintaining strictest discipline while eating even the bones and entrails of the few animals they could kill. Rescued, fed and warmed, they were eager to go back and finish their surveying job.

And is the heroism of the rescuers any less because they accomplished their mission in airplanes instead of on snowshoes or dog sleds? They were in imminent risk of their lives every foot they flew over those frozen wastes where one slip meant death.

Yes, courage and heroism are still with us.

In all there were upwards of 60 in attendance. Fred Cairns, of Healdsburg, acted as chairman. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and methods of controlling flood waters of Russian river perfunctorily talked over.

Jack Sutton was in from Orr Springs Saturday and stated it was necessary to make the trip over the Low Gap road because of a washed-out bridge on the Orr's Springs route.

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, who is a director of the State Board of Prisons of California.

—AND HE WAS A GENTLEMAN

He was a big man and a kind one. His narrative told me he was born in Texas. A letter from his aged mother said he had remained on the family ranch until he enlisted and fought in the World War. His army record was a dandy. After seeing service overseas he came to California.

When he came to this state, he spelled his doom.

As one man sizes up another, something told me as I looked him over — fine, big, handsome old fellow he was—that, despite the fact he was a life term murderer, he had killed his wife, there was a lot of really commendable traits about the inmate.

When I studied his case I discovered his wife and himself could, probably, have gotten along all right—she apparently was very fond of him and wanted to raise a family, but, unfortunately the mother-in-law question entered into the affair and, the more I went into the case, the more it appeared as if the mother-in-law was the main contributing influence that caused a rift to start that ended in a tragedy. She constantly interferred between the pair, insisting the wife remain away from her husband, taking the money the wife earned, as well as money she was given by her husband and demanding she either give up her husband or her mother. This continued interference and trouble provoked, temporarily, brooding — drunkenness. The husband bought a revolver, with which to end his own life. Unfortunately while he carried it, by arrangement the wife met him on the street one night and, not wishing to prolong an interview, she told him she had a date and in a fit of madness, not knowing what he did, he shot her. After he saw his wife, lying on the ground, realizing what he had done, he went to the Police Station and gave himself up.

He got life. He did 10 years, solid. His prison conduct was perfect. He had been shifted to duties which took him to the women's side of the prison, then at San Quentin, and, when Tehachapi was established and the women offenders were moved there, Josephine Jackson, the matron, gave him this letter:

"For the past four years he has been in addition to other duties on the Reservation, a constant aid to this Department. At all times he has been willing and able in helping us. There is nothing too large or too small, that when called upon, does not receive his careful and painstaking attention. The women of this department well realize their indebtedness to him for many things. On his own initiative he has created the moving picture apparatus and talking equipment which furnishes the women diversion and entertainment. There is no one in this Department who does not realize he is, alone, responsible for this, and does not appreciate his kindness and consideration. Lastly, but of such great importance, is his demeanor. He arrives and departs, not on a schedule but whenever he is needed, thereby coming and going at all times of the day. No one, however, can at any time adjudge him other than a perfect gentleman. He arrives, carries out his duties, departs, with never a word, glance or act to cause other than our steadfast opinion he is our firm friend and a truly perfect gentleman. And so at this time, as we will shortly be leaving for Tehachapi, it is my earnest desire to ask you (the prison board) to take in consideration his consistent efforts in our behalf and his ever perfect attitude in dealing with us, by doing all possible to see he is given the opportunity to again establish himself, by his own efforts, in the world today. Surely his attitude and actions of the past years here are indicative of the success he would attain if given this opportunity."

Time went on and one day the inmate was released.

He had gotten his chance.

He was only out a short period on parole when he got drunk, drove an automobile and was returned to prison as a parole violator. Now, he is again doing life. That's the story of a fine character at Folsom, a murderer, a gentleman—

One big drunk—one long life in prison.

CITY IS HELD BLAMELESS IN ACCIDENT CASE

Willits Not Interested In A Frontier Days Show

J. R. DE BARBE LOSER

Injuries At Grounds Are No Concern Of The Municipality

Conduct of the Willits Frontier Show is not a governmental function of the City of Willits and the municipality therefore cannot be held responsible for accidental injuries to employees working on Rodeo grounds.

Employed As Laborer.

The $35,000 suit for damages filed last August by J. R. De Barbe for persoal injuries received last summer when a gate to the rodeo grounds fell on him, was decided in the city's favor last week. Mr. DeBarbe, at the time of the accident, was working to prepare the grounds for the coming show in July.

Accident Doubted.

At the trial testimony was introduced to show the city was not engaged in the Frontier Days enterprise, although taking an interest in the promotion, which was actively in the hands of members of the Volunteer Fire Department. Other testimony was such, it is said, to leave a doubt whether an accident did in fact occur, and if it did, whether the injuries claimed by the complainant were received at the time.

Attorneys In Case.

The law firm of Taft & Spurr were attorneys for the City of Willits. Vincent W. Hallinen, of San Francisco represented Mr. DeBarbe.

HORACE E. JOY PASSES AT NAPA

Oldtime friends of Ed Joy will regret to learn of his passing at his home near Napa after a brief illness. Horace Edgar Joy was born 68 years ago at Concord, New Hampshire, the eldest son of the late Charles H. Joy and Annie M. Joy, and at two years of age accompanied his parents to California, where he has since resided. It will be recalled for many years the family lived on the farm north of Mendocino, now owned by Peter Donoho, and operated a milk route.

Bridge Sagged As Truck Crossed It

J. O. Clifton, of Lakeport, who is engaged in hauling lumber from the Steele & Helm sawmill, had the exciting experience of having the Cahto bridge sink while he was crossing it with a a heavy load of lumber. Several hours later Wayne Calder and his crew worked in water, up to their hips repairing the bridge, which appeared to be a hammock swinging across the creek.

Steel Trucking Is Storm Halted

Two large trucks with steel for Garcia bridge were held up at Elk creek a couple of days owing to the storm carrying away the underpinning of the old bridge the first of the week. After the water went down the crew was able to repair the bridge so the truckmen were able to transfer the steel to lighter trucks and take it to Garcia.

HE NEGLECTED SIX CHILDREN

Wife Complains Mate Abandons Family; Asks Support

Charging she and her six minor children have been left destitute during the past two years because of her husband's "idleness, profligacy and dissipation," Mrs. Verda Hauser is asking for divorce from Louis Hauser, custody of her children, ages 11, 9, 8, 6, 3 and 1½ years, and that their father be ordered to pay $80 per month for their support.

Made False Charges.

Mr. and Mrs. Hauser were married at Santa Rosa, March 24, 1926, and separated June 29, 1937. Among "a few of the many offenses" charged against him in the complaint are groundless insinuations of his wife's infidelity, made in the presence of others, extreme intemperance and an uncontrollable, violent temper when in his cups. It is further declared he is unfit to have custody of his children.

CLUBS DISCUSS CONSOLIDATION

Redwood Valley Fire Department and Redwood Valley Improvement Club will hold a joint meeting Friday evening at eight o'clock at the clubhouse for the purpose of discussing consolidation of the two groups. The fire fighting unit has raised $600 since its organization last year and further collections are expected to be made in the near future.

COUNTY LOST DAMAGE SUIT

Mr. And Mrs. D. M. Phillips Awarded Judgment

Judgment was awarded D. M. and Bertha Phillips in their action brought in November of last year against Mendocino county for $2129.78 as compensation for land taken by the county in widening the Orr's Springs road and for damages alleged because of rocks and debris dumped upon adjacent lands belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and for temporary interference with a private road to their lands.

Estimate Of Loss.

In allowing judgment for a strip of land acquired by the county, the court denied judgment for damages. The land in question was seven feet wide and of an approximate distance of 1500 feet—about one-fourth of an acre. Judgment of $15 was awarded on a basis of $60 per acre.

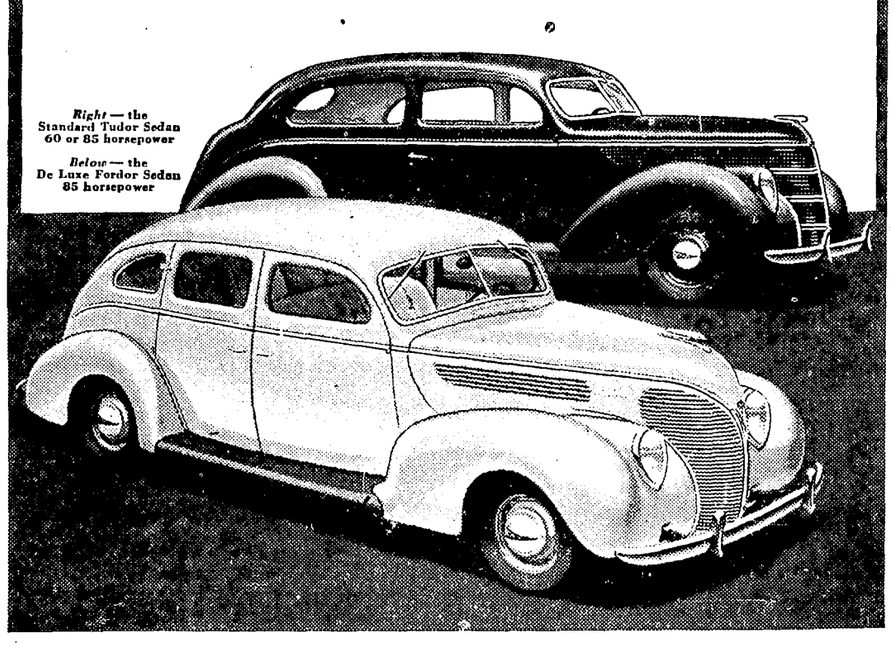
FORD OFFERS TWO NEW CARS and keeps their PRICES LOW



Right — the Standard Tudor Sedan 60 or 85 horsepower

Below — the De Luxe Fordor Sedan 85 horsepower

THERE are two new Ford cars for 1938—the De Luxe and the Standard—differing in appearance, appointments and price—but built on the same dependable Ford chassis.

Both bring you the basic advantages of a V-type 8-cylinder power-plant—smooth performance and compact design. The De Luxe Ford has the 85-horsepower engine. The Standard Ford provides a choice of 85 or 60 horsepower.

Both new cars are economical to operate. The Standard, with thrifty "60" engine, costs less to run than any other Ford car ever built.

And both new cars are priced low. Low price, like economy, is a Ford tradition. Ford founded the low-price field 30 years ago and keeps Ford prices low.

The De Luxe Ford costs slightly more than the Standard Ford, but provides more style with extra room in the closed sedans. Both cars, in proportion to price, represent unusual values. Both are built to the same high standard of mechanical excellence. There's a dealer near you.

FUN AND FROLIC AT TOPSY TURVY B. P. W. C. PARTY

Topsy turvy interpretations galore in the way of garbled garb, decoration and program provoked much mirth at Business and Professional Women's Club dinner Wednesday when the group held its annual gentlemen's evening at the municipal clubhouse. After gathering before a blazing fire in the front room, members and guests were admitted to the main hall where places were laid for 86 at a U-shaped table facing the stage. Bouquets of celery and tiny candles atop carrots held in rosettes of chicory were whimsical decorations.

Following announcement by Mrs. Drusia Harris, chairman, that alluring "Little Egypt" would make a special appearance, lights were dimmed, the orchestra began a melody from the Nile, and a spotlight, played upon a dancer costumed in diaphanous gauze of cerise, while a veil of the same material fell demurely over face and shoulders from a garland of flowers about the hair. Plaudits rained upon the performer, who proved to be none other than the versatile Paul Poulos. Descending from the platform the artist selected Edward Eversole from among many admirers for a turn about the floor in modern swingtime, completing the number by whisking his partner off his feet and daintily tripping across the floor to return him to his seat at the table.

The chairman called for silence by blowing a fish horn during the thundering acclaim. On behalf of the club she made presentation of a lovely leather floor cushion to President Louise Bernhard, who responded with a few words of well-expressed appreciation.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Mrs. Grace Holzhauser and Edward Eversole qualified as leaders of the grand march which followed by completing an oral test in freakish manner. First ladies' prize for costume went to Mrs. Darline LaPorte, who seemed to be walking backward when going forward and t'other way 'round; second to Miss Esther Redwine for incongruity of her part hayseed and part formal attire of many fashion periods; third to Miss Dolly Tibbetts who was a white lady when seen from the right and black when seen from the left; and fourth to Mrs. Celia Morris as a French chef with Mexican serape, Chinese shoes and Japanese parasol. W. H. Brunner in clever get-up as a cat won first gentlemen's prize; B. A. Cober with Robin Hood hat, Chinese coat, one hip boot and one moccasin was awarded second; Walter Jamison with silk hat, frock coat, but otherwise informally clad, won third prize; Paul Mathews in green silk shirt, brilliant stickpin and gorgeous earrings in addition to his farmer's attire, held fourth place. Prizes for gentlemen were suitable for ladies and vice versa.

Dancing was enjoyed to music furnished by Darrell Lynch, Arden Gibson and Vernon Pacini. Cards were also part of the evening's diversion for which prizes were awarded Mrs. Nanette Hofman, Mrs. J. H. Hansen, A. H. Hurlock and B. A. Cober. Congratulations for the success of the affair were showered upon Mrs. Harris and her committee comprising Mesdames Pearl Poulos, Leila Vevoda, Dorothy Smalley, Bess Gibson and Virginnia Jamison, and Misses Millicent Neep and Violet Elliott. An efficient corps from The Maple Cafe served the dinner.

Committee in charge of sale of tickets to the President's Ball, January 28, was named by President Louise Bernhard, and comprises Miss Clare Bernard, chairman, Mesdames Carrie Blackson, Freda Joseph and Helen Hughes.

IMPROMPTU CELEBRATION

A. L. Tracy was happily surprised the first of last week when a large box bearing a tag from his "Little Helpers" was presented him by the staff at the Savings Bank of Mendocino county. Upon finding a large, beautifully decorated birthday cake within he shared it in an impromptu celebration which followed.

SUSPEND GUILD MEET

Holy Trinity Episcopal Guild will not meet the first Friday afternoon of February as customary. However, on the evening of Thursday, February 3, the ladies will hold a short business meeting following the parish dinner.

DINNER HOST TO STAFF OF SAVINGS BANK

Members of Savings Bank of Mendocino County staff enjoyed a dinner party in the Rose room of The Palace Hotel Friday evening with Charles M. Mannon, president, as gracious host. A bowl of China lilies formed a lovely centerpiece at the beautifully appointed table. The full course dinner showed expert culinary skill and was prepared by Wong Lung, chief of the refectory department, as his special tribute to Mr. Mannon.

An interesting history of the bank was given by the host, a delightful raconteur, who first told of the inception of the organization with the forming of a building and loan association by his father, Judge J. M. Mannon, J. H. Barker and Dr. G. W. Stout to aid home builders in the early days of Ukiah. Later, he stated, A. F. Redemeyer withdrew from the Bank of Ukiah and started a private bank under his own name on the corner of Perkins and State streets. The first savings bank of the county was conceived by Mr. Redemeyer, Judge Mannon, Mr. Barker and Dr. G. W. Stout who foresaw a substantial bank, built upon savings accounts encouraged by interest returns on deposits, and, as a consequence, on November 28, 1903, the Savings Bank of Mendocino County was incorporated with A. L. Tracy as cashier. Protection to depositors of the bank involving serious thought in the handling of each loan and investment were brought out as important elements in its growth.

Guests at the banquet were Miss Florence Bull, Miss Marie Dooley, William Bromley, A. L. Tracy, Fred Creen, Carl Daubeneck, Frank Branson and Charles Shimmin.

LEAGUE LUNCHEON

The Catholic Ladies League luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. J. C. Johnson Thursday afternoon was well attended and greatly enjoyed. Myriads of tiny lavender chrysanthemums formed the artistic table decoration for the luncheon.

At the business session, conducted by Mrs. C. Russell, vice-president, plans for this year's St. Patrick's party were initiated in line with the annual gala social function sponsored by the League. Comprising the general committee are Mrs. John Isnard and Mrs. A. E. Garaventa.

A feature of the meeting came when Mrs. Isnard presented a vivid verbal picture of the impressive cathedral and grottoes beside the beautiful river at Lourdes, famous as a place of healing and visited by thousands of pilgrims annually. Photographic views secured there during her tour of France last summer were passed among her hearers.

Mrs. I. Sartain was welcomed into the group as a new member. Guest of the afternoon was Father Raphael Quinn.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Captain William John Harp celebrated his natal day Friday evening at a surprise party arranged by Mrs. Harp and with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buhn and Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Fuller, recently of Petaluma and formerly of Redwood Valley, as guests. A game of Tripoli was the diversion of the evening, followed by refreshments of sandwiches, birthday cake and coffee. Community Benefit A Big Success Saturday Night

EVERYBODY ASSISTED

Extra-Fine Features Appreciated By A Large Number

Special Correspondence of The Press

ANDERSON VALLEY, Jan. 15.—The benefit show, dance and carnival given Saturday night in the County Fair auditorium for Genevieve Pedro Bridgeford, surpassed all expectations. The large auditorium was taxed to accommodate the crowd and the program was very fine. The first half was Fairyland, taken from Mother Goose rhymes, which were sung by Mrs. D. V. Presley and Dr. E. W. Jordt, with Mrs. J. C. Edsall at the piano. This act was well staged and artistically costumed. A group of songs by the high school Glee Club was enjoyed. A spring dance, with John Peterson and Jack Nichols as charming ballet dancers produced demands for an encore and the 14 valley beauties who staged The Folies of 1938 brought down the house. We had not realized we had such a group of handsome men in our midst. The program was followed by the carnival and dancing. It is impossible to get complete returns at this time but the ticket sale at the office brought in $113 and this did not include the advance sale of tickets, and was on the show only, concessions and dance returns are to be added to this amount. This will enable the committee in charge to keep Mrs. Bridgeford at Silverado at least three months. Dr. Dorothy Jordt, Mrs. J. C. Edsall and Mrs. D. H. Van Zandt were in charge of the affair but it was a real community project with everybody's shoulder to the wheel and all are proud and happy over the results.

LAND DISPUTE MAY BE AIRED

Redwood Valley Farmer Claims He Is Being Edged Out

Partition of a 20-acre Redwood Valley vineyard is sought by W. S. Tutt, who filed an action last week against Carrie Van Voast for an equitable division of the property or a division of the proceeds from sale of same.

He Wants His Rights.

Plaintiff and defendant are owners as tenants in common, Mr. Tutt claiming an undivided 45% interest obtained through a deed executed by Keith C. Eversole on September 7, 1937, but the complaint charges that, during the month of January of last year, Mr. Eversole was ousted by Mrs. Van Voast, who took exclusive possession and claims sole ownership and has since harvested the crop of grapes and disposed of them for an amount unknown.

Wants His Share.

Along with the judgment of partition, Mr. Tutt asks for an accounting of the proceeds from the grape crop or a judgment for a reasonable value for the use and occupancy of his undivided 45 per cent interest.

The Way to Wealth

"In short, the way to wealth, if you desire it, is as plain as the way to market. It depends chiefly on two words, INDUSTRY and FRUGALITY; that is, waste neither time nor money, but make the best use of both."

Such was the Advice to a Young Tradesman, given by Benjamin Franklin, Esq., merchant, printer, inventor, philosopher, statesman . . . and America's most famed exponent of thrift. His 232nd birthday is honored this month.

This bank's job is to conserve the results of the industry and thrift of Ukiah people . . . and to employ these funds productively for the benefit of our community.

MONEY talks — so take a turn up and down Automobile Row and see what it says about Buick.

First off you discover that this sparkling stepper is the lowest-priced of all the straight-eights of its size.

Next—it lists at lower figures, even, than some sixes do, and it's within a dollar or two a week of several others.

But the story isn't told in the bare prices — it's told in the astonishing amount those modest figures cover!

In the SPECIAL, for instance, you get 122-inch wheelbase, 107 horsepower with straight-eight smoothness, valve-in-head efficiency, and the exclusive new DYNAFLASH brilliance and thrift.

You get comfort of a new kind, with Knee-Action on the front, and the scoop of the year—BuiCoil TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING — on the rear.

On top of that, you get elbow-room, leg-room, head-room; smartness inside and out; and probably the lightest, sweetest, pleasantest handling wheel you ever laid hands on!

All in all, this great Buick is the car that makes little money do a lot of big talking — that's why there's such a mighty fine feeling to owning it.

Go look at the price tags, and what's behind them, and you'll spend from now on in a Buick enjoying life!

NEW MOVEMENT OF MOGULS IS EMBARRASSING

Southern Pacific Now Demands Sausalito Boats Be Bought

HAS AN ACE IN HOLE!

pel the ferries to raise the rates on ferries carrying passengers from San Francisco to Marin county. Notwithstanding there is every reason in the world for the State Railroad Commission taking prompt action, the case is allowed to drag from week to week with no immediate prospect of an ending of the hearing.

What Facts Are.

Every time the Southern Pacific-Golden Gate Ferry Company rang up $1.00 in its cash register during 1937, it lost 25 cents. This was revealed by the company's annual income statement which showed a loss for the year of $411,047.35 on total operating revenue of $1,626,286.04 for the year, its first full year in competition with the Bay bridges.

The December Losses.

This loss compares with a loss of only $31,808 for 1936 during which it was in competition with the Bay bridge only about seven weeks, and when its fare was still 65 cents per car. In the first part of 1937 its fare was 50 cents and for the last four and a half months it was 30 cents one way, 50 cents round trip. The company reported a loss of $57,965 for the month of December on operating revenues of $99,740, or about 58 cents out of each dollar taken in. For the last eight days of the month it was subjected to the low-toll experiment competition of the Golden Gate bridge.

A Close Question.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company, controlling factor in the situation, is threatening to go to court, if the Golden Gate bridge directors reduce tolls to equal those now charged by the ferries. The Southern Pacific bases its right to do this because of the fact the Bridge Act has in it a clause the directors shall set a toll which shall be of a size as will make it possible for the bridge to earn sufficient revenue to pay its opeating expenses, upkeep and meet interest and retirement of bond charges. Coincident with the threat is made the charge that, at 30 cents, the toll the ferries are charging and which the directors would set as the bridge toll, if the rate war is resumed, would not be sufficient to meet the interest, upkeep and operating expenses and, consequently, would be a violation of the provisions of the bridge act.

Would Mean Years Fight.

There is no getting away from the fact, if this point is raised, and the Southern Pacific Railroad Company may be relied upon to raise it, the determination of the issue would make it necessary to take the fight to the highest court and, if it went to the Supreme Court of the United States, the suit would extend over a period of years and, during all of that time the fight between the ferries and the bridge would be continued, with resultant losses, whatever they might be, continuing.

Any Taxpayer May Act.

It would be very easy to precipitate such a fight. Any taxpayer in the district who might feel so inclined, could bring the suit and, if no taxpayer, of his own volition did so, few of us will doubt but that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company would see to it that some taxpayer did make the move.

Doing Fairly Well.

A report of the auditor of the Golden Gate Bridge shows the earnings of the bridge from July 1 to December 31 were $889,413.-26. Interest for one-half year was $759,750. Expenses were $148,630.45. This, it will be seen, indicates the bridge ran behind $18,966.99 the past six months. During part of this time it has been engaged in the fight with the ferries, which have been operating on a 30 cent fare basis, approved by the State Railroad Commission, while the bridge district has maintained its toll at 50 cents.

No One Can Tell.

No one knows what the final outcome will be. The resources of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company are, financially, almost limitless and litigation can, seemingly, be extended over long periods. In the meantime the directors of the Golden Gate Bridge District are preparing to continue their fight and the end of the struggle seems a long way off.

CROWDS PACK CITY THEATRE

Big Houses Greeting "Yes, My Darling Daughter"

"Yes, My Darling Daughter," a comedy by Mark Reed which enjoyed success in New York for 11 months, also a production in London, continues to delight large audiences at The Geary Theatre. This engagement is limited to three weeks, terminating Saturday, February 5.

A Fine Cast.

Producer Alfred de Liagre has assembled a distinguished cast for this, the first comedy he has ever sent to the Pacific coast. Florence Reed is of first importance in the cast which includes Lawrence Grossmith, Agnes Doyle, Regina Wallace, Richard Bonneville, Boyd Davis and Janice Hanford. The play is staged in two attractive scenes depicting a wealthy Connecticut family summer home on the the shore of Long Island Sound.

Story Of The Play.

The family is being disturbed by the fact its only daughter is about to run off for a "pre-marital weekend." Mrs. Murry, the darling daughter's mother, once an ardent feminist, played by Miss Reed, finds it difficult to dissuade her child from the adventure since the daughter has discovered that mother's past had itself been unconventional. The scenes are at once delightfully funny and tenderly poignant, the two generations conflicting on the subject of modern morals.

An Alluring Atmosphere.

Part of the charm of the play lies in the fact that it contrasts the Bohemian atmosphere of Greenwich Village with the dignified savoir faire of established wealth. The play was staged and directed by the producer and the settings were designed by Raymond Sovey.

Another Hit Soon.

Max Gordon's great New York success, "The Women," comes to The Geary Theatre February 7. Its cast of 40 — all women — is headed by Lois Wilson.

A GIANT TREE WAS PROBABLE CAUSE OF LOSS

Outlet Creek Bridge Damage Found By An Inspection

TRUNK 60 FEET LONG

Battering Ram Over Four Feet Thick Struck Piling

Special Correspondence of The Press

WILLITS, Jan. 24.—Word was received here Friday stating the $35,000 damage suit had been decided in favor of the city. Last summer while men were working at the rodeo grounds Joe De Barbe stepped into a post hole and claimed to have received permanent injuries and sued the city for $35,000 damages. The case was tried last fall and a large portion of our prominent citizens were summoned as witnesses. Since the trial there were the usual briefs submitted on both sides and now the last of the legal redtape has been unwound.

Went South For Operation.

Mrs. Frank Persico and son, Peter, were summoned to San Pedro Thursday when they received a telegram which stated Charles Persico was about to undergo a major operation. They made the trip in 15 hours and arrived before the operation. No news is generally good news and it is presumed the operation was successful.

Tree Did The Damage.

The bridge across Outlet creek at Longvale was carried away by the big flood last month and lodged about a mile down the river. The cause of the mishap was easily explained when the men sent to salvage the timbers discovered a large fir tree in the debris. This tree was four and a half feet in diameter and 60 feet long and besides this there was a large root of another tree. Of course the bridge went out when this large tree struck it, for the water in the creek was almost up to the floor of the bridge. Supervisor Duane Bittenbender with WPA assistance will shortly have the bridge replaced and it may be open for travel by the first of next month. It has been quite a job taking the bridge timbers apart and then hauling them back to the bridge site.

Good Fishing Now.

Reports from Longvale state there is an unusually large run of steelheads now coming up Long Valley creek and some very good catches have been made.

Going After State Money.

A movement is now on foot to hold a livestock show in connection with our rodeo next summer. Willits is the center of a large live stock industry and is the logical place for such an exhibition. E. M. Pohle and Chet Breaw will go to San Francisco shortly and interview Tevis Payne, secretary of the Western Fairs Association. In case we succeed the premium money would be a cut out of the State pari-mutuel fund received from the race tracks and would probably amount to several thousand dollars.

Told About Railroads.

William Wollner was guest speaker at the Lions Club meeting at Hotel Van Wednesday night. His subject was "Railroads" and was very entertaining and instructive.

Installation—Entertainment.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs had a joint installation Wednesday night. There was a large attendance and a good program was furnished during the services. Following the installation the party adjourned to the Midway Cafe where a turkey banquet was awaiting them.

Odd Fellows Officers.

Deputy Grand Master Wayne Burke installed the following officers: Alvin Grist, Noble Grand; Jack Thayer, Vice Grand; John Bondeson, Secretary; Will Heckendorf, Treasurer; H. L. Allen, Warden; Leon Shelton, Conductor; Pres. McPeak and Leonard Munson, Supporters of Noble Grand; D. Tracy and A. Quaill, Supporters of Vice Grand; J. M. Martin, Inside Guard; John Quinliven, Outside Guard; R. Z. Andrews and John Rupe, Scene Supporters; Gus Sindt, Chaplain.

Rebekahs Installed.

Elizabeth Gowan, District Deputy Grand President, of Boonville, installed the Rebekahs: Ida Grist, Noble Grand; Christine Tracy, Vice Grand; Ruth Lawrason, Secretary; Mecca McPeak, Treasurer; Nellie Wolff, Warden; Lena Barnwell, Conductor; Rose Heckendorf and Hazel Bendore, Supporters of Noble Grand; Elizabeth Munson and Jennie Hasetswerdt, Supporters of Vice Grand; Irene Branscomb, Inside Guard; Rose Quinliven, Outside Guard; Sarah Upp and Clara Heyward, Altar Supporters; Ida Pritchett, Chaplain; Beatrice Heckendorf, Organist.

Have New Officers.

Willits Lodge, Royal Neighbors, had installation Thursday night. Mrs. Edna Gaul installed the following officers: Ellen Brown, Oracle; Charlotte Butcher, Past Oracle; Ann Hunt, Vice Oracle; Cecile Hall, Recorder; Dolly Kaufman, Receiver; Emma Conard, Chancellor; Wave Whitney, Marshal; Ellen Brown, Assistant Marshal; Pauline Petty, Inside Sentinel; Mary Legg, Outside Sentinel; Connie May, Musician; Frances Whitney, Drillmaster; Clara Johnson, Birdie Jamison, Margaret Potter, Blanche Iles and Helen Graham, Graces. The party had a banquet at Carson Inn.

Have Hill-Billy Band.

The newly organized Willits Hillbilly Band met at Recreational Director Robert Camp's home for the first time Saturday night and a successful session was enjoyed by all who attended. Nine members make up the musical unit and from all indications much can be expected of the group after a few more practices. Following is the personnel of the band: Bob Lewis, Sr., violin; Bob Lewis, Jr., harmonica; Ralph Johnson, violin; Charles Shelton, volin; Neil Lewis, guitar; Morse Raymond, guitar; R. A. Allison, guitar; Ray Lewis, guitar; Wilma Camp, guitar.

Winerymen Meet.

Winerymen of Napa, Sonoma and Mendocino counties last Saturday held a meeting in Santa Rosa with officials of the Redwood Empire Exposition Commission regarding participation in the 1939 World's Fair to be held on Treasure Island in San Francisco bay. It is the plan of the Commission if possible to have a complete wine exhibit at the Fair from the above three counties. Supervisor Ed. Haehl and W. F. (Bill) Whitney are the Mendocino County Commissioners.

Held Installation.

Willits Lodge F. & A. M. had a semi-public installation Saturday night. Before lodge was called a sumptuous banquet was enjoyed at which 200 persons were present.

Conducted Ceremonies.

Arthur Thompson, P. M., was installing officer and C. A. Steele acted as master of ceremonies. Chas. Hodge is Worshipful Master; Leslie Ledger, Senior Warden; Fred Nelson, Junior Warden; Eley Wonacott, Treasurer; E. J. Allen, Secretary; C. L. Eggleston, Chaplain; Orville Archer, Senior Deacon; H. W. Salisbury, Junior Deacon; Frank Whitney, Marshal; John Bondeson and Sidney Blaik, Stewards; Frank Derman, Tiler; A. H. Thompson and Ray Dunham, Trustees.

Given Master's Jewel.

A. H. Thompson presented the retiring Master, Ray Dunham, a handsome Past Master's jewel on behalf of the lodge and during the ceremony Mrs. Fred Sowash gave several violin solos.

Came From Ukiah.

Harry M. Burke, Lloyd Bittenbender and E. J. James were here from Ukiah and Billie Provines came up from Mill Valley to attend the installation.

Honored Matron.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion gave Mrs. John Karas a birthday party at her home Friday night. The regulation refreshments were served and Mrs. Karas was presented numerous useful and handsome presents. Those present were Frances Whitney, Esther Elliott, Marie Dilly, Helen Reynolds, Mrs. John Bee, Mrs. F. Foord, Nellie Moore, Hilda Nunan and Mrs. W. J. Kiefer.

Mrs. Fred Rodgers of Healdsburg, and Mrs. Sedgeley, of Cloverdale, attended the Masonic installation Saturday night.

To Be A Success.

Practically all of our civic organizations have joined with the Lions Club in promotion of the President's Ball which will be held at the Park pavilion Saturday night. Dr. R. B. Smalley is chairman and has appointed the various committees composed of people in all walks of life. One lady has already sold $75 worth of tickets and as there are a number of women selling tickets the result will be there will probably be several hundred dollars worth of tickets sold. The great attraction at the ball will be a prize of $10 to the couple who give the best exhibition of "The Big Apple," which is a new kind of dance and not fruit.

The Pythian Sisters have installed the following officers: Mrs. Ida Pritchett, past chief; Mecca McPeak, ex-chief; Alice Andrews, ex-senior; Nettie Duffield, ex-junior; Josephine Schmidbauer, manager; Mary Estill, secretary; Ruth Lawrason, treasurer; Clara Heyward, protector; Diana Quaill, guard. Jennie Hasetswerdt was installing officer.

HYDROPLANES' TRAINING BASE AT CLEAR LAKE

Story Is An Agent For Government Lately Was On Ground

WHAT IT MAY MEAN

160 Homes For Men, 600 In All, May Be Erected

(The Lakeport Bee)

Once again the rumor of a government plane base or training school on the shores of Clear Lake has become hot and The Bee has information that indicates there may be some truth in the rumor.

It Was Predicted.

Readers of The Bee recollect a story published in this newspaper in April, 1937, which stated V. M. Moir, district manager of the State Chamber of Commerce, reported a favorable prospect of a marine air corps hydroplane base being constructed on Clear Lake shores and that surveys had been made around the lake.

Lacked Verification.

The Bee communicated with Washington on that occasion and Congressman Clarence F. Lea and Charles G. Dunwoody, conservation chairman of the State Chamber of Commerce, checked records of the Bureau of Aeronautics and Navy Department at the request of The Bee, but could obtain no information in Washington that would verify the Lake county rumor. A telegram to The Bee from Mr. Dunwoody in Washington at that time stated "The Navy Department reported no deal possible on Clear Lake due to requirements for such base being contiguous to deep ocean water."

The New Situation.

The new situation which is causing this story to be published is the fact there has been a man in the countyseat several months, and he is known to The Bee to have been associated with construction of two plane bases for the government in the past, one in Florida and one in Virginia. This party has rented a home in Lakeport and his mission has been rather secretive with exception of a small bit of information he has divulged to one of Lakeport's most influential citizens, who is the source of The Bee's information.

Has Gone East.

The reported government agent as he may or may not be, boarded a transcontinental plane for Chicago this week on a hurried mission which is reported to be dealing with a plane base on Clear Lake shores, the reported location of which The Bee has been requested to withhold from publication. Further information, either favorable or unfavorable, in reference to Clear Lake is now being awaited here by The Bee's informant.

What It May Mean.

Tentative plans, according to the rumor, call for construction of 160 homes for a 600-man field that will cover a large acreage as a government training school. Just what all of this rumor may mean to the county is only a guess. However, it is known President Roosevelet has just asked Congress for the country's largest peace-time armament appropriation. Citizens may well realize the importance of such a government project on Clear Lake, if it should materialize. It was reported to The Bee the government will pay a fair price for acreage needed in the event the base should be established on Clear Lake.

IN HOWARD HOSPITAL

Father Celestine Quinlan, who has been ill with a severe attack of influenza at Howard Memorial Hospital, Willits, is reported much better. Fathers Sharkey and Quinn drove to Willits Friday to see him.

HAD MANY OPERATIONS

Mrs. F. C. Bull has returned home from Oakland where her son-in-law has just undergone his tenth severe surgical operation and whose condition is regarded as extremely critical.

Mr. and Mrs. Monte Reed were in Reno, Nevada, last week on business.

DENIED CHANGE

Motion for an order changing the place of trial was denied the Heggblade-Marguleas Company of San Francisco in the suit brought against the company by Goeffrey Bell for $2129.78 for grapes sold and delivered during 1937 to the corporation. The matter was before the court on defendant's motion to take the matter to the superior court of San Francisco county.

DID THE WORK, WANTS HIS PAY

Contractor And Bond Co. Being Sued For Balance Claimed

Kyle & Company, sub-contractors in the erection of the custodial building at the Mendocino State Hospital, has filed suit against K. E. Parker Company for $1723.43, the balance claimed due on a sub-contract of $20,111.52 for labor, materials and supplies furnished for installation of concrete reinforcements.

Work Okeyed.

The sub-contract between Kyle & Company and K. E. Parker Company was made November 2, 1936. The work specified was completed October 1, 1937, and the building accepted by the Department of Public Works October 15. The Fidelity & Deposit Company of Maryland is named co-defendant. A $300 attorney fee and costs of suit are included in the complaint.

Mendocino Stood Fourth In Loss

According to figures made public by State Engineer Edward Hyatt, Mendocino county is fourth in the amount of damage from the recent California storm and high water. Figures that may be revised as more complete reports are made known, show Mendocino county suffered a total loss of $923,000. Butte county suffered the worst damage with over two million dollars, and Sonoma county was second, according to the report.

$100 Promissory Note Is Suit Basis

May Ritcher has filed complaint in foreclosure against John Jezyk, to secure judgment on a promissory note for $100 given April 13, 1934, to Sallie T. Griggs, of Fort Bragg. Mrs. Griggs died in Tehama county in 1937 and the note was distributed to May Ritcher through probate. Judgment is asked for the principal with six per cent interest from April, 1934, $12 for examination of title and $50 attorney fee.

Albert V. Schlener, of Petaluma, was a short-time visitor here Thursday.

ODE TO A BUSINESS MAN

(Daily Leader-Times, Kittaning, Pa.)

Seek him on the kisser, put him on the pan,
Roll him in the gutter—He's a business man.
Pillory the sucker, poke him in the eye,
Jump upon his torso—He's a business guy!
Has he built a business to enormous heights?
Brand him as a cheater—Never mind his rights!
Does he give employment? Is the payroll big?
Put the bum in irons! Toss him in the brig!
Does he pay in taxes what the law calls for?
Why, the dirty reptile should be paying more!
Blast him in the headlines, charge some crooked acts.
Let this be your slogan: "Anything but facts!"
Has he made some money? Get his scalp today!
Say, where does he think he's living, anyway?

WILDCAT UNCAUGHT

place of safety, 10 feet away, and there he had made a meal upon it.

Could Not Snare Him.

For two weeks after that Mr. Brewer matched wits with the wildcat. Mr. Brewer set traps baited with rabbits. Mr. Cat came by, scented danger and walked around the traps. Mr. Brewer at last discovered where the wildcat was coming into the valley. The cat lived in timber south of where he killed his prey and he followed deer trails in. Mr. Brewer set a number of blind traps and one morning in checking them, found the wildcat trapped by one front foot. He shot it.

Drastic Measures Necessary.

Stories continue to come into The Press office about the inroads wildcats are making on game, especially does and fawns, thousands of which are killed by the varmints annually. Something should be done to provide a reward for wildcat killing because they are rapidly exterminating game.
